Use of Disclosure Information

This Disclosure should be used in accordance with the Code of Practice and any guidance issued by Disclosure Scotland. Particular attention should be paid to the guidance on the fair use of information.

This Disclosure is issued in accordance with Part V of the Police Act 1997 which creates a number of criminal offences in order to protect the public against misuse of these Disclosures. These offences include forgery or alteration of Disclosures, obtaining Disclosures under false pretences and using a Disclosure issued to another person as if it were one's own.

This Disclosure is confidential and is not evidence of the identity of the bearer. The personal details are those supplied by the applicant at the time of the application. Conviction details and any other information disclosed have been provided on this basis. Conviction details etc are only accurate on date of issue of the Disclosure.

Any information provided in Other Relevant Information section of this Disclosure is included at the direction of Chief Constable(s) in Scotland, and Chief Officer(s) in England and Wales. By virtue of the amendment of the 1997 Act by The Serious and Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 other agencies are deemed to be police forces for the purpose of an Enhanced Disclosure. As such they can provide information for inclusion in this section of the Disclosure. The Chief Constable or Chief Officer of the force concerned may decide to provide separate information to the Registered Body only.

The information contained in this Disclosure is derived from central records as defined in Part V of the Police Act 1997 and regulations made there together with local police records, where appropriate. Disclosure Scotland is not responsible for any inaccuracies in this information.

If this Disclosure is found and cannot be returned to the person to whom it relates, it should be returned immediately to Disclosure Scotland or handed in to the nearest police station.
